

INSTITUTIONAL QUALITY CIRCLE (IQC) MEETING FOR AY 2025–26

University of Sufism and Modern Sciences Conducts First Institutional Quality Circle (IQC) Meeting for AY 2025–26

The University of Sufism and Modern Sciences (USMS) convened its first Institutional Quality Circle (IQC) meeting for the assessment year 2025–26 on September 26, 2025. The session, organized by the Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC), was chaired by Prof. Dr. Arabella Bhutto, Vice-Chancellor and Convener of the IQC, and facilitated by Dr. Dhani Bux Talpur, Director QEC.

The meeting was attended by Deans, Heads of Academic and Administrative Departments, and the Director Academics, who engaged in deliberations on key academic and quality assurance matters. The agenda included preparations for submissions to CIEC–Sindh HEC, review of the Annual Targets of QEC for 2025–26, and discussion on the draft QEC Activity Calendar for the assessment year.

In her address, Vice-Chancellor Prof. Dr. Arabella Bhutto reaffirmed the University's commitment to academic excellence, emphasizing that continuous improvement in teaching, learning, and institutional performance remains central to the mission of USMS.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks, underscoring the collective resolve to strengthen quality assurance practices and further enhance the University's academic standards.
